Foreword

The sound of happy voices, the spirit of good sports, the molding of ideals and aspirations—all blend into our high school experiences.

With the sincere hope of bringing a worthy souvenir of significant days at the Carson Long to its many loyal students, the Staff has devoted many hours of work.

We feel that your satisfaction with this volume is our compensation, and with this though the Staff presents to you the 1965 Carsonian.

Alma Mater

OUR ALMA MATER

1. 'Mid the hills of Pennsylvania
   Stands the school we love;
   Our devotion is as steadfast
   As the stars above.

Chorus:

C.L.I. colors, Red and Blue,
May they float for aye;
We'll remember Alma Mater
Throughout life's long day.

2. When we leave our Alma Mater
   Life's great work to find;
   Memories of friendships loyal
   Linger in our mind.
   (Chorus)

Emil Johnson

Dedication

In appreciation for their understanding of our problems, for their patient assistance, for their admirable listening to our complaints, for their inspiration and encouragement when we were disheartened, for their determined effort to make us satisfied and happy, we of the Carsonian staff lovingly and respectfully dedicate the '65 Carsonian to the parents of the Senior Class.

"I OWE SO MUCH"

When I look back on my six years here, so many wonderful memories pass through my mind. It seems just like yesterday that I saw the unfinished chapel as I entered the Carson Long gates for the first time.

I felt when I came that I was to receive, here, the best education and spiritual beliefs that could be taught a young man. My parents were always in favor of my making up my own mind, so they let me pick the school I wanted to attend. It was because of this decision that I came to Carson Long.

During the years I have been at C.L.I. I have experienced many and varied things. I shall always remember my first day in the Junior School and also in the Senior High School. I have spent the formative years of my life here and. I know that nowhere on earth could I have received a finer education. I have been taught honor, respect, discipline, loyalty, and, most of all, I have been taught to follow the Golden Rule. With this teaching I feel that I am ready to go into the world. It is for these riches that I say "I owe so much to Carson Long".

I also wish to thank my mother, father, and grandmother for all they have done to make my education possible. Without their love, guidance, and desire for me to have the best, all this would have been impossible. I hope I can repay them for the great sacrifices they have made for me.

As time draws near for taps to play for the last time, all these treasured memories of six years are with me. And in this moment all I can find to say to my parents, and to Carson Long, is—

"I owe so much".

DEAR MOM AND DAD

This is a letter of gratitude and thanks for all that you, Mom and Dad, have done to make me a better son. You both have given me so many more things than you yourselves were able to enjoy, when you were my age. You have tried to give me the best education a boy can have. For just this, I want to thank you both very much.

I cannot express myself in words how I feel upon this day of graduation towards you, Mom and Dad, but words are not the only way we can say thanks.

You both have given me guidance and encouragement at times when I needed it most. I did not always recognize your help when I needed it. Now I see you were doing me a favor I could not appreciate at the time. I never once felt shy about asking you for advice, and you both always gave me the best, even though there were many times that I did not follow it. Now, I can see how foolish I was by not listening to you.

I am not writing this oration as an assignment, but as something that comes from the bottom of my heart and the word I am trying to say is "love". Mom and Dad, as I close my oration, I want to say thanks for everything that you both have done for me; but more than anything, I want to say that I love you more than anything in this whole, wide world of ours.

I would also like to take this opportunity to thank one of the finest men I have ever known—Major Joseph A. Lepere. Major Lepere has been like a second father to me and all the other members of the Senior Class. Major Lepere shall always remain in my memory as one of the truly great men in my life.

I close my oration by saying "Thank You" to all.

CLIMB EVERY MOUNTAIN

In today's modern society each American is faced with many challenges. These challenges, be they of a physical nature or of a moral nature, may be seen as mountains waiting to be climbed. One cannot ignore these challenges for they are the difference between success and failure, liberty and slavery, life and death.

To overcome these challenges, to conquer these mountains by wishful thinking is impossible. There is but one way to conquer a mountain, you climb it. One must assault these mountain-like challenges with aggressiveness, determination, and faith. Without these qualities we cannot hope to reach the mountain's peak; we cannot hope to overcome our challenges. Without these qualities to keep us going, we would falter in the face of adversity; we would fall from the mountain and be plunged into the dark abyss of failure.

Americans of today must face each new challenge squarely and with resolution. Each of us must climb our mountain and match it. This is not an optional choice. Each of us is obligated to meet the challenges facing our nation and our society. We are obligated to every man and woman who have given their lives so that this great nation could be born. We are obligated to every American who has fallen in battle so that this nation might remain free. We are obligated to every immigrant who has left his native land to find liberty and happiness for himself and his children in this nation of opportunity. We have no choice but to continue in meeting each new challenge and overcoming it. The Americans of years gone by have done their share in building this nation. It is now for us, the new generation, to keep climbing and shoulder the burdens that are a part of being a world power. We young Americans must find our guiding light in the example set by Americans for almost two hundred years. We must now step forth into the world with faith in ourselves and our nation and climb every mountain.

WHAT IT TAKES TO BE A MAN

Integrity, Honesty, Nobility and Bravery could be given as four excellent characteristics of manhood.

If a man possesses all of these traits plus the will to succeed, there is nothing known to our society which would prevent him from reaching his goal in life.

In my past six years here at Carson Long all of these traits have been branded in my heart by the guiding staff of the faculty officers.

The founders of this nation had these traits of manhood so far branded in their hearts, that they were blind of failure. They did not know the meaning of cowardice nor were they dishonest or disloyal.

George Washington, the Father of our country, did not know the meaning of failure. Had he quit when he suffered hardships, such as at Valley Forge, we would be flying the Union Jack over our nation's capitol now, instead of the Stars and Stripes.

Abraham Lincoln, the tall, stern faced man, out of the backwoods of Illinois, had an ideal implanted in his heart. He educated himself before the light of a fireplace and raised himself to become the sixteenth President of the United States. With the will to succeed he accomplished the ideal which he had planned years before, the freeing of the slaves.

John F. Kennedy knew the meaning of bravery, honesty, and nobility. When the Communists were threatening our well-being by building numerous rocket sites in Cuba, he told them to disassemble them or action would be taken. When he was in charge of the famed PT 109, he showed courage by risking his life to save his crew from the burning wreckage. He gave his life for his country on that 22nd day of November in Dallas.

My ambition in life is to know that I have done something to make these United States a better place to live in.

GLENN CUNNINGHAM-A MAN OF COURAGE

When we think of courage, we sometimes think of great men. One great man who stands out in my mind is Glenn Cunningham.

There was one event in Glenn Cunningham's life that set him aside from other men. This was the result of an explosion which caused him to lose all the flesh from both of his legs. The greatest doctors in the country told him that there was no hope for him to ever walk again, but Glenn would not accept cold realization. He was determined that no matter how long or how hard he had to work, he was going to overcome this handicap. Therefore, after many years of pain and anguish, he overcame the impossible.

It was not easy at first, many times he fell and hurt himself. But did he let this stop him? No, he kept right on going. Glenn Cunningham had one thing that singled great men from all other men. He had a goal in life. This goal was to break the four-minute mile. He had wanted to do this ever since he was old enough to understand what it meant.

Some of you may have heard of Glenn Cunningham. He was one of the greatest runners the track world has ever seen. He tied many records and set new ones. All this because he would not quit.

Many times when I think of giving up on something, the image of Glenn Cunningham comes to my mind then I realize how foolish I am. Glenn Cunningham has taught me a good lesson: Never quit, if you are knocked down just come back fighting all the harder.

Glenn Cunningham proved that no matter how hard the task is, or how many obstacles stand in your way, if you want to succeed, and are willing to fight for it, you will succeed.

This is why I think Glenn Cunningham deserves to be called—A Man of Courage.

MY COUNTRY

Could there be anything more dear to you than your own country? We are born under the colors, and we will die under them. We live in a land where we have many opportunities. If we work, we can go far in life; in other countries, you do not have this opportunity. In this country, we make our friends and spend our lives.

Our nation wanted independence, so we fought and gained it from England. Our nation was divided in a great Civil War, but after many years of fighting, we created a strong and more perfect union. We were involved in two great world wars, which saw us come out with victory. Because we love freedom, we want the rest of the world to have it also. Today we still help the people of the world, by sending them food and money so they may build their nation into a strong nation like our own.

When you have a land as great as ours, it is like calling it your home. When you go to another country, stand tall and let them know you are from the United States. When you are in another country, watch your actions so that you do not give the United States a bad name.

What does your country mean to you? Many people have answered this question. The words they use are different, but they all mean the same.

My country is the greatest land on earth. It is the country where I live, have my friends, and the land where I will die. It is the land of opportunity. Many men have fought and died for our freedom. So remember, where ever you are, and what ever you may be doing, stand up, and be proud to say, the United States is "My country."

"MEMORIES"

This is a time for memories, memories of the pleasures and the work that have filled my days at Carson Long. I remember the first day I set foot on this campus. My thoughts were: What would it be like to go to a military school? What would the boys and teachers be like? I had just left another private school the year before and I tried to imagine what the differences would be. I found that Carson Long is just the same as any other school, except the teachers care more about you. They are interested, will take the time to talk over your problems with you, and try to help you solve them.

At times life at Carson Long has been dull and slow, the discipline has been hard, and time has seemed to stand still. But now I realize all these things have given me opportunity for development and for enjoyment of the companionship that life in a boarding school offers. The friends I have made among the boys, the example of truth and honesty set by the school, will always be among my finest memories. Carson Long truly teaches you "How to Learn, How to Labor, How to Live" a better life.

It is normal that I should have had disappointments since I have been here. But I have also enjoyed many good times with my friends, and I have learned that life is not a game and work itself can be fun.

I can't be sure of my future, and what I hope for may be all dreams, but I know that if I really try I can overcome my difficulties. And in the untouched and unshaped future, I hope I will be able to remember what I learned at Carson Long, and make a success of my life.

WHAT IT MEANS TO GRADUATE

As I stand before you today I am beginning to understand the true meaning of graduation. It is that point in life at which you say the final good-bys to many of your friends. But one is stepping into a whole world of friends and ideas. There were many good times at Carson Long that I will always remember, but there was also much studying and many hard decisions to make. When I take the next step in life, it is going to be a hard one and I know that I am now fully prepared to meet the worst.

The many fine speeches I have heard while at C.L.I. have inspired me to keep pushing and to learn that "A quitter never wins and a winner never quits" "How to learn, how to labor, how to live" are three phrases I have lived by while here. Every student who has left Carson Long has come in contact with them and knows what they mean by heart. This was probably the most influential single item in my life as a cadet. These were also the first words I noticed when I decided to attend a military school.

Through Carson Long's fine instructors, I have been given a chance to complete the first main stage of my education while also picking up a few pointers on life on the side. These are the things that will me through any advanced education I might enter.

Though I've been here only two short years, I now fully understand the meaning of companionship. At times when my schedule has been full my friends have helped me out and I have learned to do the same for them.

Now the time has come for me to leave my alma mater and the many true friends and good times I have had. However I will take with me into the future much knowledge and many valuable memories which will always be with me wherever I go.

MY PARENTS

I have often wondered, "Who has helped me the most throughout my lifetime?" "Is it my teachers?", I say to myself. True, my teachers have taught me how to add, how to subtract, how to multiply, and how to divide. They have taught me the difference between freedom and tyranny. They have also taught me the difference between what was right and what was wrong. Yes, my teachers have helped me a great deal.

As I continue along the list, I come to a man who has gained all of my respect and admiration. When I was a young boy, I thought this man did not know what he was talking about. As I grew older, I found the things this man was saying to be the truth. Today I owe this man an apology for not listening to him sooner.

Next on the list is a woman who has gained all of my humiliation. With kind and gentle words; she has taught me the difference between what was right and what was wrong. Her inspiring words have often helped me out of the roughest predicament. I have and will continue to thank the Lord for this woman.

By now you have probably guessed about whom I am talking. These two people, the ones who have gained all of my respect, admiration, and humiliation, are my parents.

Upon entering Carson Long Institute, the first six weeks were the hardest; upon leaving Carson Long, the last six weeks were the easiest. Unfortunately I cannot say the same for life. Carson Long has helped me immensely to prepare for the hard life ahead. I can thank my parents for sending me here to this school. I shall be indebted to them for life. I shall never forget them. I give you this salute as a very small token of my gratitude for all you have done.

ONE YEAR MADE THE DIFFERENCE

My encounter with Carson Long has prepared me for the many hardships of life ahead. As I face the long road I am beginning to realize that I have been prepared to accept responsibilities no matter how difficult they may seem to be. The training I have received here has developed me spiritually and physically. I have learned to cope with the difficult problems and situations which may suddenly arise.

From the day I arrived on campus I have been guided by my friends, leaders, and faculty officers. The rigorous schedule I have kept has prepared me for an even more rigorous schedule through-out my career whatever it may be. I feel that the guidance and leadership I received here have changed my life greatly. When I leave Carson Long I will not forget what I have learned from my experiences here, but I will refer back to them, so they can help me through any difficult situation which I may come up against. The discipline and military instruction I have received here will definitely be of prime importance throughout my life, as will be my academic training also.

The school's motto "How to learn, How to labor, and How to live", signifies Carson Long's purpose. Through the courses here, they try to achieve high academic standards for the cadets, while also preparing them for their future life in college and society. I feel that they have succeeded immensely in this great undertaking.

I would like to take this moment to express my appreciation to the faculty officers, who patiently contributed their time and effort to my future. My memory will always linger in the happy times I have had during my year here at Carson Long.

MY COUNTRY

For over 200 years, the people of the United States have fought for the right to do and say what they please. During this century, the United States has entered a world war and now faces the threat of Communism.

From December 7, 1941, until August 14, 1945, the United States was engaged in the bloodiest war man had ever seen. When the privileges of the United States were being infringed upon, they went to war. With their integrity at stake the American people had the conviction to stand up for their rights. They wanted to stop the spread of the dictatorships in Germany, Italy and Japan. The American soldier had fought in Europe and the Pacific, so that countries might be free to rule themselves as we do.

After the war ended, we were still not at peace for there was a new menace to cope with: Communism. Since the war Communism has engulfed over one-third of the world's population and embraced one-quarter of the world's land. In Vietnam, Laos, and the Congo, American soldiers have given their lives to halt the thrusts of the Communist aggressor. Berlin is another example where the ideas of freedom are pitted against the Communist ideology. This great city has been divided into two sectors—East and West. The Western sector has an American way of life—the Eastern sector is dominated by the Russian Communists.

With the menace of Communism threatening us all over the globe, we will have to fight harder than ever before. We must fight with guns and rockets as well as political ingenuity. I know however, that as long as there is a United States, there will be a place for those who want to remain free and render the world free with them.

PAST, PRESENT, AND FUTURE

The past of our country is one of which we can be proud. Everyone knows of the great heritage that our ancestors died for. Our past is made up of great names like: "Cow Pens, Yorktown, Gettysburg, San Juan Hill" and "Pork Chop Hill" and many others too numerous to mention. There are people like Lincoln, Washington, Jefferson, Hamilton and others. All of these make up our past. It is a colorful one but a costly one written in the blood of countless thousands of dead around the world and is still being written today. These people fought so that we might be free.

We are now in the present. There is strife, starvation, oppression and many other misgivings going on all over the world today. The world is not perfect, but then was it ever? In battle, the only difference between the present and the past is that we can kill each other faster and easier. There have been many great advances in both military and peaceful fields. They contain untold wealth and power and energy. It is up to us to use them and pray to God that we use them with tact and intelligence.

The all important thing now is our future. What is done today, the people of tomorrow must live with. It is only with good reasoning that we will ever be able to live in peace. World peace may be an idle dream, but why give up? We will, if we want to survive, have to face many hardships head-on without staggering and it can and must be done. This is a great country and a good world. The avenue to peace is open and depends only on how we use it. No matter how we traverse it we must face up to its reality. If we do not, soon, I fear, there will be no so called road left for us. We must all open our eyes and take interest in our country while we can with God's help we cannot and must not fail.

SUCCESS

Webster defines success as a favorable termination of a venture. To me success is much more than that. The main thing that enables people to succeed is the desire to succeed. Some people think that one must have a great mental power. These people are completely wrong. Take Theodore Roosevelt for instance. He was of average mentality but he was a great success. Roosevelt was a man who would try anything once. When he started something he wouldn't quit until he succeeded. It just goes to show desire and determination are the basis for success.

Before I attended Carson Long I had no desire for success. I know I can thank Carson Long and the members of the faculty for giving me the desire to continue to a better education and the desire to succeed after education is over. My two years here have been the best of my life. I have done more growing up in these two years than I did in all the years previous in life. Carson Long has not only given me an education, it has given me the urge to go on. Carson Long has taught me how to live with my fellow men.

Now, I would like to say thanks to my parents for offering to send me to Carson Long. Without their concern for my education I would never have made it. After all the trouble and heartaches I gave them, they still didn't give up on me. My parents confronted me with the biggest decision of my life. They gave me the choice between Carson Long and public school. I know I made the right decision. I know too, that I have not done much to make my parents proud of me. I will make my parents proud of me. "My parents and Carson Long have shown me the way." I will succeed.

FROM CHILDHOOD TO MANHOOD

There comes a time in every young man's life when he looks back over his youthful years. It may bring a tear to his eye and a pain in his heart when he thinks of all the things done for him, and not really appreciated. We never realize how much our parents do for us until it is too late. Granted, at the time we thought it was their duty to take care of our needs. This outlook is completely false. We never realized how much our own parents, our own flesh and blood, suffered and went without just so we could have a good start in life.

It seems to me that we should be the ones to satisfy them, now that we are reaching the threshold of maturity. When you come right down to it, our parents ask very little in return for all the love and care they gave us in our younger years. Parents ask only that we choose the right road in life and that we make the most of the opportunities we have. Our parents do not always ask that we follow in their footsteps, but that we choose a life and occupation of our own. It seems so little to some, but yet a burden on others to get good grades and grow up a strong, upright citizen.

If we really think about it we may realize that our parents were teaching us how to learn, how to labor, and how to live long before we came to Carson Long. It is just the fact that we are away from Mother's skirt and Dad's strong arm that makes us realize that the things they taught us all our lives were not so old-fashioned. It is like the old saying "You don't know what you've got until you lose it".

I hope when I go on to graduate from college, with a degree and a good sound start in life, I can look my parents directly in the eyes and ask, "Am I a man now? Do I satisfy you?" I hope that I can make my parents so proud that they will have a tear in their eyes when they are asked about their boy. This is how I intend to satisfy my parents completely.

"SLOWLY TIME MOVES ON"

As I stand here, remembering all the wonderful, happy—and sometimes sad—times during my stay on Carson Long's beautiful campus, I think of all my friends from these past few years. Last year the seniors took time out—their valuable time—to teach me the ways of a military organization. They taught me the meaning of time. In my two years at this school, I have learned how to use time to my advantage and never to put off until the last minute anything that had to be done. I have found by experience that anything you put off until the last minute is untidy, disorderly and generally full of mistakes. From these graduates I gained valuable knowledge and experience that will help me overcome problems in the future. For all their help, I feel I am indebted to them in someway, and maybe someday, I will have the satisfaction of knowing that I too might have helped some new cadet in my brief—but profiting—stay at Carson Long Institute.

You know, it is amazing how this year went so fast; already I am on the "Maples" giving my oration. Most of us are planning to enter college next year, and we have only a short time in which to prepare for this new stage in our lives. We know it will be a rough road to follow in the years to come; but I am confident that no matter how hard it seems, everyone will come out on top in whatever he does.

At Carson Long I have learned many things for which I am grateful. I would like to thank the faculty for their time and effort, and I want to thank my wonderful parents for sending me to this fine school.

One thing we all must remember is that time relentlessly moves forward, leaving the weak behind and carrying the strong forward to their destiny.

THE ROAD TO MATURITY

The road to maturity is a long, hard struggle, filled with many pitfalls and dangers. Up until three years ago, maturity was just another word confusing me. It was at this time that my parents decided to make it mean something. Since that day, I have harvested many new and wonderful experiences both at Carson Long and at home.

Now, maturity has made an impression on my mind, never to be erased by any man. I owe my parents many things but I will never be able to repay them for all the love and understanding which they have poured forth to me in the last fleeting three years at Carson Long. Today, I can stand here and say that I not only know the meaning of maturity, but I also know it is a part of me.

I would like also to thank the faculty here at Carson Long for giving me a chance to prove myself. It has been through the combined efforts of Carson Long and my parents that I leave here knowing that I have learned much about what lies ahead for me. I am sure that many stormy times lie ahead for me. However, due to these last three years, I am sure that I can weather the harshest of storms that life may hurl at me. I have gained something here that I will never be able to express in words—something I can only feel innermost in myself.

My parents have foregone many things to teach me the meaning of maturity and my only hope is that some day I will be able to repay them in some small way.

In closing, all I can say is a heart felt "thanks" to the faculty and my parents for everything they have done for me.

"IT HURTS"

Growing up is a difficult task which every man must encounter. Some men fear it; some do not care, and some men never grow up. As for me I have found that I have grown, not only in height but also in confidence —confidence in God, in my country and in my fellow man.

My father has brought me thus far through life. The only regret I have is, now, on this day, I must bid farewell to him; for I now know what I face. The world is not just a bowl of cherries but a pit of thorns. If I should be able to hold my head as high and as proud as my father, then—and only then—will I call myself a man. My father may not be famous, or maybe he has never done anything great in the eyes of the world; but he has done one thing, and that is to raise a son the best way he knew how.

When you are small, life is carefree. You have no worries. Then comes a day—like today, father—when I wish I were young again. It is not that I am unhappy today, but now I shall be on my own—to try to claw my way to the top, to be someone of whom my father can be proud, and to be someone of whom my country can be proud, if only as a good citizen.

Twenty years from now I shall still be growing, maybe not in physical height but in wisdom. If my wisdom will help my fellow man, then I will know that growing up is really worthwhile.

When I leave the gates of Carson Long, I shall leave the land of milk and honey to venture into a man-made hell.

Now I would like to express my appreciation to a special man—a man who has guided me during the past seventeen years. Father, thank you, and may God be with you forever. God bless you, Dad.

TO MY MOTHER

For two years now I have heard my friends discuss various topics for their orations. From the beginning I have known that my oration would have to be on a very special subject, one that is dear and close to my heart. That is why I have dedicated this, my oration, to you, Mother.

Soon I will receive my certificate of graduation. I will then be stepping into a strange world. But, thanks to your many years of patience and hard work, Mother, I am prepared to face any hardships that might await me. I only hope that I am able to face them with the same confidence that you must have shown.

You have been a better mother than anyone could ever hope to have even though there have been many times I have ignored your wiser advice. I now regret that I did not follow it always. I realize how foolish I have been, and I am truly sorry for any grief I may have caused you.

Mother, if in my life I am able to gain success as you have done, I will have obtained my goal in life. I am well aware of the fact that I will have to prepare for a lot of hard work in order to obtain this goal, but nothing worth having was ever gained without hard work.

I now realize— what so many others have realized too late—that a mother is the dearest and most sincere friend a person could ever hope to have.

I hope that I will prove to be a son of whom you may always be proud, and I thank you with all my heart, Mother, for all the sacrifices you have made so that I might benefit. I just pray that I am able to justify the many sacrifices you have made for me.

HONOR

As I close the gates of Carson Long behind me, I look forward to a new and different way of life. I am thankful for coming to Carson Long, for it has taught me the real meaning of honor.

Our freedom is taken for granted. The blood, sweat, and tears that helped to build this country are long forgotten. Is love and respect of country no longer in style? We must not give up. Our forefathers fought and maintained the United States as an honorable and democratic nation, and yet we have not maintained it as such. We cannot possibly let our honor fail us now. We know that the United States is one nation of only six voting nations in the world. But is it honorable to have the lowest percentage of eligible voters actually voting?

All Carson Long Cadets are completely familiar with the Gold Star Platoon. These alumni were men of honor. They never gave up their feeling of loyalty toward the United States. They died for our country—the greatest and most honorable sacrifice an American can ever make.

The late President John F. Kennedy once said, "Ask not what your country can do for you, but what you can do for your country." John F. Kennedy, like the men of the Gold Star Platoon, was a man of real honor. He too laid down his life for his country.

I would like to take this opportunity to express my deepest gratitude to my parents, for they have given up so much to teach me how to lead an honorable life. Without your help and undying encouragement, Mom and Dad, I never could have achieved anything worthwhile.

I would like to thank the faculty for all that they have done, and especially Colonel Holman whose inspiring speeches on honor have helped me so much.

The road to the future is now before us, and we cannot fail. Now, we all know the real meaning of honor. Always remember, "When honor is dead, the man is dead."

"I'LL DO MY BEST"

This, my first year at Carson Long, marks the end of twelve years of school. It has not been an easy twelve years. It has had its ups and downs, and its happy times and sad times; but it has been twelve years of my life that have been well spent.

Schooling is an important part of our lives. It gives us a chance to make advances in society that would be otherwise impossible to make. In this day of technological advancements, a person without a formal education will end up fighting for survival, whereas in the past a person could easily advance himself to the position of the so-called "self made man." Today a high school diploma is a plain, ordinary necessity that everyone must have.

My parents have done a lot for me. They have advised and counseled me and have tried to show me the right paths to take. At times I have strayed from these paths and had to be shown the way back. I owe a lot to them—more than I will ever be able to return. They have given me the tools of life and an opportunity to be a useful member of society. I must now do my best never to let myself or them down.

During this year at Carson Long I have been taught many things. I have been truly shown "How to learn, How to labor, and How to live." Carson Long—and, of course, my parents—have led me to the paths of manhood. It has brought me to a point where I can look into a mirror and be proud of what I see. It has taught me how to learn what is needed in life. It has led me to understand the necessity of working and of doing a good job. And, most importantly, Carson Long has shown me how to live with the world and with myself. I have all I need now, and I believe that "I have fought the good fight." I am ready for the world, and I'll do my best.

THE END AND THE BEGINNING

The time has arrived when my senior year at Carson Long has drawn to an end. Fortunately, I can reminisce on a very fruitful seventeen years and eagerly welcome the beginning of a challenging future.

As I progressed through my adolescent years, encountered many trials and tribulations. My immaturity in undertaking many tasks was and still is with me. However, with the guidance of my teachers and conscientious work of my own, I overcame numerous obstacles.

One of my most arduous changes in life came when I made the transition from elementary school into high school. My first two years in high school were wonderful. The various types of people that I met, helped me to discover new ideas pertaining to life. My ability to think and reason was maturing rapidly. As a freshman, I realized the significance of a well rounded education. With an excellent education behind me, I could fulfill my one goal in life—to become a success in some chosen field.

My last two years in high school have been the most profitable in my entire school career. The moral and character building and the fine education that I have received at Carson Long have helped me toward becoming a young man, with an optimistic outlook on the future.

I have yet to start my new life as an adult. My past years as a young man have given me a sound foundation on which to base my future. My schooling has given me not just an education but the wisdom I need to face problems that will arise many times during my adult life.

The end of my young life will soon be behind me but the challenging years that I have to look forward to are still awaiting me. It is up to me to make these years the finest of my lifetime. With determination and patience, God willing, I will do my best to attain my one ambition in life—success.

THAT WAR IN VIETNAM

For five years now the United States has been involved in a "brush-fire war" in Vietnam, and unfortunately, we are no closer to victory now than we were then. This war is completely dissimilar from any war in which our nation has fought. This dissimilarity is characterized by the constant political upheaval, national disconcern, and extremely adverse terrain. In this small country governments fall as easily as the autumn leaves. When it comes to choosing sides, the poor peasant is sick of the Viet Cong assassins and the Vietnamese bombings. He wants only to be left alone to raise his rice in peace. Mountains, jungles, and rice paddies offer concealment to the Viet Cong thus enabling him to strike and disappear without a trace.

The Viet Cong is an unusual enemy obsessed with the Communistic ideals of government. He is a young, uneducated, sly, bold, and creative person. His age is usually somewhere between seventeen and thirty-five. Hiding deep in the disease-ridden jungles or lofty mountains, he will strike in small bands using home-made, captured, or Communist weapons. These small bands are only raiding parties, for the Viet Cong realizes a pitched battle would spell humiliating defeat.

Despite the nonbelligerent role of our over twenty-three thousand Americans in Vietnam, these advisors are dying daily Of these casualties the largest number are sustained by the helicopter crews and Special Forces, both front line advisory units. As painful as it seems, upwards of two hundred have died unselfishly while we talk of neutralization.

Why do these men die and for what? The threat of Communism must be stopped before it can spread further. Vietnam is important! If Vietnam falls, all Southeast Asia will fall. We can not pull out now and leave these little nations to the yoke of Communism. This is the war of our generation. Some people have World War I, some have World War II, and others have the Korean War. This is our war! Let's win it!

EDUCATION FOR LEADERSHIP

Today, we need education more than ever before. Man has always tried to develop the social environment by developing a cultural standard through social sanctions. Today this goal can be achieved through education. Education is the reason our country has lasted so long and has been a leader in this world. But it does not mean education only for a few, but for everyone. Thomas Jefferson did not propose thrusting the ballot into the hands of everyone. He favored government for the people but not by all the people, only those who were literate enough to inform themselves and wear the mantle of American citizenship worthily. But people have to be educated not only in government but in every aspect of life. It is up to you and me to see that they are educated.

A person with education carries his body erect, has a good command of the language, and has polite manners. He also cares and has pride for his country and family. Today, however, there are many teen-agers that think education is nothing but a farce. They do not stop to realize that they are causing a great problem in unemployment and the only ones they are hurting are themselves. They also fail to realize that they are future Americans and the future of our great country rests in their hands. Without education they will not know how to handle the situations of our country plus raising our unemployment problem. We must stop teen-agers from quitting school or our problem will get worse not only in unemployment but in our national and international problems also. They will not be educated enough to take care of the problems of the world; they must have a comprehensive educational system to guide them. The future of America is in the hands of our teen-agers. We must realize that our nation can not gain in stature and wisdom and can not build leaders until our young people are properly educated.

MY PAST THREE YEARS

I would like to dedicate this oration to my parents and grandparents. They have given up so much, so that I could come to Carson Long. They, also helped me through the hard times and gave me advice, that sometimes I did not take. I always repented.

In a few days I will be leaving Carson Long. It has been my home for the past three years. The friends that I have made here will last me the rest of my life. I will also be able to return to the campus from time to time to see the places I have grown to like, and know so well.

I could not honestly say that I have enjoyed every day I have been here. However, I can say that the enjoyable times outweigh the unpleasant ones by far. The class trips, going out to Camp Carson, and the vacations were just a few of the good times I remember best. I can't remember a single day that something good, or fun didn't happen. There was always a joke being made, or a game to be played, or perhaps just a picture to be dreamt about.

My big shock came when I entered the last semester of my senior year. I thought that it would be a time when work would kind of ease off. But, I was wrong. Now I can see why the work got harder and longer. It was to get me in shape for next September when I will be entering college. I understand that I was pushed and driven to work and improve my study habits so that work in college would not seem so hard.

My past three years at Carson Long have been my greatest.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT

Theodore Roosevelt, soldier and statesman, was born in 1858 and graduated from Harvard in 1880. One year after graduation he was elected to the New York Assembly, where he served two terms. Later becoming tired of politics he tried his hand at cattle ranching, only to return to politics after losing a great deal of money.

After helping McKinley with his presidential campaign, McKinley made Roosevelt Assistant Secretary of the Navy. Before Roosevelt resigned he started a cavalry regiment that later became known as the "Roughriders." The "Roughriders" made the famous charge up San Juan Hill, which made Roosevelt a national hero. After his resignation was submited, Roosevelt was elected Vice-President under McKinley, only to become President six months later due to the assassination of President McKinley. Considered to be one of his greatest achievements while in office was the construction of the Panama Canal. He ran for a third term but was defeated by Woodrow Wilson.

In the late part of 1918 Roosevelt became very ill; and even though he only half recovered, many people believed he would be the Republican nominee for the presidential election of 1920, but he died on the sixth of January, 1919. Theodore Roosevelt was buried at Sagamore Hill, Oyster Bay, New York.

Theodore Roosevelt was a man of great character and ability. He was a quick thinker, and many times he could consider a question in one-tenth the time it took another person. He detested falsehood in any form. Through his long career as a political leader, he always fought fairly and in the open. It would be needless to speak of his courage because his actions as a man prove his courage. His wisdom, unselfishness and his devotion to duty and his country will be more clearly seen by each following generation of Americans.

THANKS

In a few days I will be graduated from Carson Long Institute. Now is the time to think of what my future will be, but I would like to take this opportunity to think back on my life.

There are two people to whom I owe my very life—my parents. They have given me all I will need to become a success. My only compunction is that I have failed to show my appreciation until just a short while ago. When they gave me advice, I thought that it was just nagging. Now that I have grown older, it has become clear to me what their purpose was.

As far back as I can remember, my parents have shown unbelievable patience. I know that I have not been what would be called a "model child," but, through it all, my parents have stayed right by my side giving me guidance. When I got into trouble, they made me face up to the problem myself, and, after suitable punishment, explained patiently why this particular thing was wrong.

When I got to junior high school age, I still had not changed. My grades and conduct were not up to the proper standards. It was then that my parents made a decision that was to change my life. On September 14, 1962, I entered Carson Long Institute. Although I did not like this school at first, I can see now that it was the best thing for me. As I advanced in rank, knowledge, and responsibility, I took a long look at myself in the mirror. I did not like what I saw. I was ashamed of the things I had done, but I was more ashamed of how I had treated my parents. They had done so much for me and I had done so little for them.

As I stand here before my parents I am at a loss for words to express my appreciation to them. All I can say is THANKS.

"WHEN HONOR IS DEAD, THE MAN IS DEAD"

A person who will not tell the truth has lost all honor, not only to himself but to everyone else. How can you expect someone to believe you once you have lied to him? If someone does something wrong and will not own up to it, he cannot be trusted. You will never know whether or not this person is telling the truth. A person who is not honorable has no courage or self-respect at all. When a man's honor is dead, he is dead, not only mentally but also spiritually.

When children are little, they watch their elders to see what they do. If the elders lie, cheat or steal the children do this too. When these little children grow up and go out into the world, people will not tolerate such practices as lying, cheating or stealing. You can tell how a person was brought up by how he abides by these practices: lying, cheating or stealing.

"We will not lie, cheat or steal, nor tolerate among us those who do." This is the Honor Code at the Air Force Academy. The Honor Code means that you are put on your honor for everything that you may do. If you do something that is not right you will report yourself to your Commanding Officer. This is a code that only gentlemen abide by. None of the Academies tolerate anyone who breaks any of these regulations of the Honor Code. The Honor Code should be taught to each and every one of us from the time we are born until the day we die. If everyone went by the Honor Code, there would be no need for police. Other countries would not have any need for guided missiles with nuclear war heads ready to be fired and capable of hitting their targets within a matter of minutes.

Once a person has lost his honor, he loses his friends and more importantly, his self-respect. When this happens, he has nothing to look forward to. This person might as well be dead!

"LIFE IS TOO SHORT TO BE LITTLE"

"Life is too short to be little," was written by Disraeli. This is true for all mankind, the great and the small. Too often we let the little things in life get the best of us and allow happenings that we should have accepted as everyday occurrences to upset us deeply. This can waste much valuable time. The person who can devote his energy to the immediate task will keep fit in body and in spirit. A physically fit man can be unbelievably unfit as a human being. A man possessing great gifts can have a life that is self centered or has no center at all.

The basis of the Christian religion is "Do unto others . . ." The key to democracy is freedom. Both of these begin with the individual.

It is what he does that shapes a man. Men make events. The events of today make the history of tomorrow. Therefore each of us must regard history as a personal think. This is a very large actuality for the Individual to contemplate.

Each human being must find himself and develop his own capacities within the structure of the social and civic situation in which he lives. The self realized individual will take his place and do his part in the family, community, and the country.

There has always been trouble in the world; but if one has the personal strength he can overcome difficulties and make use of the opportunities which may present themselves. This strength is built of many things. A man can find spiritual guidance in the teachings of his religion. He should try to keep himself physically fit at all times. He will seek to develop his mind to the best of his ability. He will keep a sense of humor and appreciate this trait in others.

A generation in which the free people dedicate their lives to sincere feelings and actions, and worthwhile undertakings will surely leave the world a better place in which to live.

THE FIRST OF MANY LIVES

As I prepare to leave this school, I realize I am leaving more than just a place of learning. I am leaving a part of my life behind me that I will never have another chance to make right if I have not done so already. I think of the two schools I have attended and I think how very different they are, but are they really different? They both helped to mold me into what I am today and very likely what I will be tomorrow. I think a lot of what tomorrow may bring and little of the past. Yet our future lies in the past. Just as this school now lies behind me, larger ones await me. But did this first life I have just lived prepare me for the ones I'm about to live?

I have referred to living more than one life and I believe that we all do just that. As I stand before you I am dying, I am losing the first of my many lives, for life in high school is a life in itself. I have many lives before me. College, my years afterwards working, and the years at the end of my natural life when I have but one life left before me and those many of the past to dream upon, but dreaming is for the old and living for the young. If we the young dream now, in this the first of the many lives we are to live, we will have nothing left to dream upon in the end, for the end will be our future.

I thank God that I have been allowed this first life and thank Him for the training that He has enabled me to have. I only hope that I will live my lives to do credit to these the people and the places that started me on my journeys to the many worlds beyond.

I'LL NEVER FORGET

In a short time I will be graduated from Carson Long. I will be leaving this school for the last time. But when I leave, I will be taking many fond memories along with me to look back upon. These fond memories consist of my friends, instructors, and my parents.

I will never forget what I have learned during the short time I have been here. I have learned to lead rather than follow; learned to stand up for what I believe to be right. I have learned to live with all sorts of people; learned how to work and get the best results out of any given job. In short, I have learned "How to learn, How to labor, and How to live."

I will never forget the friends I have made here. Through them I have learned how to live. It is these people that gave me the will to win when I needed it most. It is these people that I will miss the most when I leave. I am indebted to them for many things.

I used to wonder just exactly what a senior's feelings were when he graduates. Now I know that feeling. It is a feeling of sorrow, a feeling of remorse, yet it is a feeling of happiness and of joy. Any way you look at it, it is a feeling that will take more than a few years to express in words.

I will never forget Colonel Holman and Major Lepere. Without their inspiration and guidance, I might not have been here today. Likewise, I am also grateful to the rest of the faculty, especially Lt. Tejera, Capt. Stuart, Maj. Holman, and Lt. Livingood. It is through the encouragement and help of these men that my four years in high school have been successful.

Lastly, I will never forget my parents. They too have worked hard so that I might graduate from here. I will never forget these two people and what they have done for me.

These things I will never forget as long as I live.

"THANKS"

When I first came to Carson Long four years ago, it was just one of my steps toward manhood. There have been many yesterdays here and at home that I can look back upon--some with a smile and some without much happiness or smiling. However, no matter what I see in the past I know I have picked up the valuable experience needed to help me fit into society and help me in the future. I have had my downfalls and problems, but I have been helped over them, or at times forced to help myself. I have seen my mistakes and have tried to correct them. All of these were in the ways of growing up and I have come through them a better man, I pray.

Today I stand here about to be graduated. I owe a lot to many people who have made this day possible. To my Mother and Father and many others who have talked with and tried to show me the right way, I owe more than I will ever be able to repay. To my teachers here at Carson Long who have influenced my life in a rightful way, I feel deeply indebted. There are many who have helped me and I hope that I will prove to them that they haven't wasted their time.

June third begins the tomorrow of my life or, it will be when I am put to the test as to whether or not I will be a success. My parents, teachers, and friends have given me the so-called tools and now it is up to me to use them. I hope I can show my parents that I will do good in my future life, and I hope I will be proud of myself as well. I owe so much to so many, that all I can do is thank God that I have what so many are denied. "THANKS"

AMERICA'S HELPING HAND

Today, more than ever, the United States is aiding many underdeveloped countries. One of the best examples of U.S. foreign aid in the past was the Marshall Plan. This plan helped rebuild war torn Europe after the war had devastated it. With American aid, Europe's economy has been stabilized and she has been able to devote her energies toward promoting world peace.

Within the last decade, the American government has stepped up the foreign aid program by distributing money and know-how to aid many needy countries. Special attention has been given to the Latin American and South East Asia countries because of the ever present threat of Communistic infiltration and control.

The most successful foreign aid program of this decade has been the Peace Corps—now the Kennedy Corps. Many young men and women are giving time and energy to help backward peoples. These young people are helping in many capacities: education, medicine, agriculture, and engineering. Many others are helping by informing the public about the Communistic threat. These patriotic Americans are preventing nations from becoming a Berlin, a Korea, or a South Vietnam. With the help of these young, energetic adults, underdeveloped nations will be able to take a proud place in the ever developing universe.

At present the United States is pouring millions of dollars into the United Nations, the world's peace organization. These funds go to such organizations as U.N.I.C.E.F. and the World Health Organization to combat poverty and disease.

Americans are giving generously to Radio Free Europe which broadcasts the truth to the Iron Curtain countries. Through various religious faiths and through C.A.R.E., the American people are directly combating the war against squalor in the disease-ridden nations of the world. We are sending medicine, food stuffs, agricultural equipment, educational supplies and other important items to help the people help themselves.

The American people cannot be told they do not care about the world in which they live. The American people have given unselfishly to aid the less fortunate countries. God bless these fine people!

MY LIFE WITH CHRIST

At approximately eleven-thirty in the morning of June Second a bugler will sound taps and our class will become alumni, never again to march in ranks with the corps.

The past few years have been tough for all, but I believe that I have led a better life than most. Not a single time after I turned to the Lord in prayer, did I ever feel unhappy. Even though people may disagree, there is no doubt that the Lord led me to and through Carson Long.

I would like to quote Pastor Douglas Couch if I may. He said, "The secret of failure is the failure of secret prayer." Not one single person would ever fail a single time if he would ask for guidance once a day. Even so, few people realize the power of prayer. I know that I can trust in the Lord, and I have—Rev. 3:20. He provided me with a job, a good church, and some of the finest Christian friends in the world.

Before I conclude, I want to express my deepest gratitude to my parents and grandparents, Colonel Holman, Captain Stuart, Lieutenant Clement, the rest of the faculty, my friends, and especially Father Mowen, who has befriended me here most of all.

I shall always remember Psalm 119:133, as I plan my future. It says, "Order my steps in thy word: and let not iniquity have dominion over me."

I will miss my friends very dearly, and I know that each cadet's heart holds a place for our dear Alma Mater. We shall never forget her and what she has done for us. May I wish each of my classmates the best of luck in his endeavors.

May we have a word of prayer? Dear Lord, we ask thy blessing. Let no man or cadet ever forget his duty to God, to his church, and to his country. Protect us and deliver us, as we are graduated, and depart in all directions. In Christ's name we ask it, Amen.

IT TAKES COURAGE

Courage is having enough back-bone "to choose the harder right instead of the easier wrong." America was won by the blood shed by many thousands of brave and courageous men who chose to take the harder right. They had a great dream—a dream that was worth fighting for. These men were true patriots. They had the courage and perseverance to fight, for "liberty or death." Let us hope that these brave and honored dead did not die in vain.

Today America is faced with aggressors who, in greed, want to take over the world; and unless we stop them, they will soon take our dream from us. Here is where we Americans can take our part to help preserve the Constitution and to protect our dream for "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness." Here is where it takes courage. We must not be afraid to be called a "flag waver." We should be proud of our flag, country and the people for which it stands. If we are real patriots, we will have the courage to stand up for our country no matter what price we must pay. We have no room for cowards in this great nation of ours. We need more people who are true patriots, people who believe that "yellow" is just a color, and a whole nation that believes in God.

The former President of the United States, John F. Kennedy, said in his 1960 Inaugural Address: "Now the trumpet summons us again—not as a call to bear arms, though arms we need—not as a call to battle, though embattled we are—but a call to bear the burden of a long twilight struggle, year in and year out, 'rejoicing in hope, patient in tribulation'—a struggle against the common enemies of man: tyranny, poverty, disease, and war itself." This great man gave his life for our country just as many other brave men gave their lives for our country. Let us have courage to stay a free nation.

In deepest appreciation the Senior Class wishes to dedicate this page to the Faculty that have done so much to prepare us for the future.

The Drag Strip

As we walk along, we come upon an undeveloped area. It was here is nineteen hundred and fifty-nine, someone started building a drag strip to later become the class of Nineteen Hundred and Sixty. The first dragsters to go down the strip were William Hutchinson, Eckart Dienemann, and Malcolm MacPhail. Others soon came because of the advertising. These new rails were Howard Kauf, David Cryer, and Verne Nestler. All the dragsters had a fine year, only to become better by some new members, James Bongiovanni, Jeffrey Wilkes, Thomas Reabold, Robert Gencarelli, Gary Taylor, Frederick Jones, and Robert Rabold. These rails ran several times and to add to the perfection came, Harold Gearing, Robert Gillespie, Aron Lifschultz, George Atherholt, and Paul Masters. Soon after more came with the desire to run. They were Roger Abel, Howard Gray, Kevin Patterson, Charles Flora, Joeseph, Deer, Holbrook Hunt, Carl Banfield, Dewey Halabolm, Mark Richner, and William Jackson. The final members to join before the drag strip closed were: Robin Dedrick, Ronald Chontos, Donald Pohlig, Joesph Adams, Thomas Hill, James Ciceri, and Frederick Charles. Since the strip will be closed after this year, we are all going to have one last run, but this one we all do together; it's the race to success. We have made this run many times before but we were just preparing for the big race in which we look back and see empty stands, but we keep on going never to be forgotten in the minds of those who have made the run.

The cadets were permitted to visit the other museums and memorials in Washington — the Lincoln Memorial, the Washington Monument (898 steps for those who were brave!), and of course, the Capitol and the White House. Departing from a cold and wet city, with intriguing memories, and empty pockets, they prepared for a three hour ride back to school. Ten P. M. found the group in a diner in Gettysburg, with high spirits, and midnight saw all the boys back, after a most remarkable trip.

WHAT SHALL 1965 BE?

A year of Vision?
A year of Victory?
A year of going above and beyond the Call of Duty?
A year of Giants?
A year with the Masters?
A year to become "New Creatures"?

CARSON LONG INSTITUTE

New Bloomfield, Pennsylvania

(FORMERLY NEW BLOOMFIELD ACADEMY)
1836 - 1916

MAKER OF MEN

A MILITARY SCHOOL OF DISTINCTION FOR YOUNG GENTLEMEN

FOUNDED DURING THE STRONG, STORMY, STRENUOUS YEARS WHEN
ANDREW JACKSON WAS PRESIDENT (1836)
AND
REBUILT AND FOUNDED AGAIN AND RENAMED BY THEODORE K. LONG IN 1916

Not the biggest, but we hope among the best.

NEW ENJOYING SPLENDID YEARS

HOW TO LEARN HOW TO LABOR HOW TO LIVE

Located twenty-eight miles northwest of Harrisburg in the clean pure air of the Blue Ridge Mountain Country.

Dedicated unselfishly and wholeheartedly to American boys anywhere who want to become leaders of men, blazers of new trails, makers of history, and citizens who will be both great and good.

Contains a College Preparatory Department, a General Education Department, a Military Department, and a Junior School.

Always busy building bigger, better, finer American boys.

Believes intensely in the simple, sincere, strenuous, religious life.

Is non-sectarian, but believes ardently in the Spirit of Christ, the Brotherhood of Men and the Golden Rule and the Sermon on the Mount.

Considers an education that does not take into consideration the development of the heart, the soul, and the body, a failure.

Considers hard work and honor essential parts of a great school system.

And believes that all good people everywhere should realize that a man's boy is about his biggest business.

You are invited to come to see us. Here you will always be welcome. We believe you will like Carson Long.

"BETTER THAN WEALTH IS A GREAT BOY"

OUR NEW CATALOGS ARE READY FOR DISTRIBUTION

HERE WE TRY TO GIVE OUR BOYS THE PATRIOT'S DREAM AND HELP THEM
RISE AND RANK AND STAND AMONG THE BEST.

HERE WE TRY TO SOW THE SEEDS OF GREATNESS
TO LIGHT IN EACH THE SPARK OF GREATNESS.

Congratulations to the Senior Class
